

REACH

Recognizing and Eliminating disparities in Addiction through Culturally informed Healthcare

Want to learn how to improve care for racial and ethnic minority patients with substance use disorder?

ABOUT REACH

REACH is 1-year educational program for trainees interested in pursuing an Addiction Fellowship beginning July 2021, as well as medical students, APRN/NP and PA Students, and medical residents - from racial/ethnic URM backgrounds, all specialties.

Scholars endeavor to be change agents to improve the health and health care of racial/ethnic underrepresented minority (URM) patients with substance use disorders (SUDs).

APPLICATION TIMELINE

-  May 1, 2020
Online application opens
-  July 15, 2020
Application deadline, 5PM EST
-  September - October 2020
Invited Fellows are interviewed
-  November 2020
Notice of acceptance for all Scholars
-  July 1, 2021
Entry of accepted Scholars into the program at participating universities

Funding provided for scholars to attend the 1-Week Intensive, 1 conference, and up to $104,000 for Fellowship programs.

CURRICULUM

- 1-Week Intensive course at Yale University; includes Advocacy, Racism and Health, Systems of Care, Structural Competency, Harm Reduction, Medical Co-morbidities, and more.
- Scholarly Project to improve health outcomes for racial/ethnic URMs
- Professional Mentorship
- Monthly Webinars

ELIGIBILITY

- In training (i.e. entering fellowship, in residency or school) as of July 1, 2021
- U.S. Citizen
- Racial/ethnic minority background (i.e. Black/African or African-American, Non-Caucasian Hispanic or Latinx, American Indian or Alaska Native, Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander)

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

WEBSITE: <https://reachgrant.org>

EMAIL: reach@aaap.org

Funding for this initiative was made possible (in part) by grant no. 5H79TI081358-02 from SAMHSA. The views expressed in written conference materials or publications and by speakers and moderators do not necessarily reflect the official policies of the Department of Health and Human Services; nor does mention of trade names, commercial practices, organizations imply endorsement by the U.S. government